

Contents

Preface .....	9
List of illustrations .....	11
Part 1: Excavation and Reconstruction
Introduction .....	19
Project history .....	19
Chronology and terminology .....	21
Excavation location, progression and preservation .....	22
Recording system and methodology .....	26
Topsoil and surface contexts .....	27
Contexts of later (Archaic–Hellenistic) date .....	28
Features on the W side of the trench ( Fig. 1.10 ) .....	29
Features on the E side of the trench ( Fig. 1.11 ) .....	34
Prehistoric levels (the 16W longhouse) .....	39
Stratigraphy and phases .....	39
Structural features and fixtures: walls and postholes .....	48
Structural features and fixtures: oven, hearths, flooring .....	57
Artefact distributions and activity areas .....	60
Ritual deposits .....	63
Reconstructions and comparisons (the 16W, 29 and 31 longhouses) .....	64
Architectural features .....	64
Heating, cooking and artefact patterning .....	71

Environmental and social considerations	74
Comparisons with other sites in Sicily	78
Chronology, dating and time-scales	80
Dating without radiocarbon	80
Radiocarbon dating	81
Lifespan, coexistence and abandonment of buildings	84

Part 2: Finds Reports and Analyses

Hand made and wheel made pottery	89
Pottery fabrics ( Pamela Fragnoli and Sara Levi )	101
Sampling and analytical methodology	101
Local lithologies	103
Mineralogical and petrographic analyses	103
Granulometric analysis by means of computer imaging (DIP)	104
Mineralogical analysis	106
Chemical analysis (XRF-WDS) and statistical elaboration (SPSS)	109
Compositional groups and local lithologies	113
Compositional groups, technology and the social organisation of production	114
Developmental trends	116
Comparisons with the necropolis of Madonna del Piano	117
Conclusions	118
Daub and plaster ( Robert Leighton and Catriona Pickard )	119
Daub samples	120
Discussion	123
Spindle whorls and loom weights	125
Metal items and residues ( John Dixon and Robert Leighton )	127
Context and form	127
Analysed samples of metallic residues	130
Chipped stone ( Robert Leighton and Graham Ritchie )	142
Comparative assemblages	146
Ground stone	148
Grinding platforms/millstones	148
Grinders, pestles, whetstones	150

Amber ( Carl Heron and Robert Leighton ) .....	151
Context and form .....	151
Analysis .....	152
Faunal remains ( László Bartosiewicz ) .....	154
Introduction .....	154
Material and method .....	154
Taphonomic observations: recovery and preservation .....	156
Methods of recording and analysis .....	157
The description of animals .....	158
Patterns of animal exploitation at relevant sites in Sicily .....	166
Comparisons with mainland Italy .....	169
The enigmatic fallow deer .....	171
Conclusions .....	171
Bone tools .....	172
Bird bones ( Erika Gál ) .....	173
Plant remains ( Marina Ciaraldi and Robert Leighton ) .....	174
Identification .....	175
Discussion .....	176
Charcoal remains ( Susan Ramsay ) .....	177
Molluscan assemblage ( Catriona Pickard ) .....	179
Introduction .....	179
Methodology .....	179
The terrestrial assemblage .....	179
The aquatic assemblage .....	182
Comparative assemblages .....	184
 Part 3: Settlement and Territory in Later Prehistory
Site and setting .....	189
Site topography, size and layout .....	189
Population estimates .....	191
Environment and ecology .....	192
Environmental data from the Lake Pergusa core samples .....	194
Aspects of subsistence, economy and trade .....	196
Later prehistoric settlement and the Morgantina survey ( Robert Leighton and Stephen Thompson ) .....	200

Regional settlement patterns .....	205
Final Bronze and Early Iron Age sites in the region .....	205
Later Iron Age sites (late 8 th –7 th centuries BC) .....	209
Territorial models and socio-political organisation .....	210
Part 4: Finds Catalogue .....	215
Finds catalogue by context/material .....	217
Appendices .....	265
A. Molluscan remains, contexts, samples and species ( Catriona Pickard ) .....	265
B. Pottery quantities (sherd numbers) by context/year .....	271
Notes .....	273
Bibliography .....	279
Addresses of Contributors .....	291